

Transform everyday brilliance into disaster resilience!

Prepare for the unexpected and participate in a full range of free disaster preparedness trainings, ranging from personal preparedness, agency response, and long-term recovery.

Eden I&R offers

interactive, adaptable,
empowering,
positive,
relevant,
diverse,
easy,
and fun

disaster preparedness trainings for all!

Schedule yours today!
Contact Lars Eric Holm

Disaster Preparedness Coordinator

510-727-9516

leholm@edenir.org

Made possible from generous support by WALTER & ELISE HAAS FUND

Proudly presenting curriculum developed by Collaborating Agencies Responding to Disasters

Trainings Offered

Designed to meet the preparedness needs of staff, volunteers, and clients of nonprofits and community-based organizations, choose the trainings that are right for your group:

- Build a SKIP (Safety Kept in Place) kit with everyday household items
- Make a Disaster Preparedness Plan for staff, volunteers, and clients
- Create an Agency Emergency Plan
- Learn about Incident Command System (ICS) and disaster response
- Incorporate social media and technology in plans and responses
- Empower parents and practitioners with preparedness tips for specific populations: children, seniors, caregivers, persons living with disabilities, etc.

2-1-1 is a free, multi-lingual, and confidential service that provides referrals to disaster, housing, and critical health and human services resources.

Dial 2-1-1 or 1-888-886-9660 to speak with a live resource specialist 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

2-1-1 Alameda County is a program of Eden I&R, Inc.

Find resources at www.211alamedacounty.org